3. School Climate Assessment Data: A summary of the school climate survey results and other relevant data including areas to celebrate and identified areas for improvement.

In the area of family connectedness, 83% of parents/guardians reported feeling well informed about what is going on at school when surveyed in the spring, a decline from the previous year. 81% of parents/guardians reported feeling they are aware of their child's progress before report cards are sent home. Roughly 95% of students had a family member participate in both the fall and spring conferences.

In the areas of engagement and belonging, 7.6% of students were identified as chronically absent with 12.6 % of High Needs students identified in this category. Longitudinal schoolwide data depicts a pattern of decreased chronic absenteeism amongst high needs students since '22-'23 (27.8%), however, rates are not yet back to where they were pre-COVID (10.1%). Amongst all students, rates are again lower than at their peak in '22-'23 (12.1%) but still higher than '18-'19 (3.7%).

Upon a review of fall office referrals and discipline data, recess times for each grade represent a time of day of great struggle, behaviorally, for all students. The month of October resulted in the most office referrals. Of all office referrals made in the fall, the core value most frequently not met was being Respectful (towards teachers, classmates, and or property). The number of behavior infractions in which students took responsibility for their actions was more than double the number of times when students did not.
